

Guests from Abroad To Observe Welfare Agencies in Bucks

Bucks Co. Board of Assistance To Be Hosts During Period of 2 Weeks

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 16—Bucks County Board of Assistance held its monthly meeting Tuesday in the county office, 10 West Oakland avenue. Mrs. Ella Meredith, Quakertown, a recently-appointed member to the board, attended. Mrs. Meredith has been appointed by Governor Fine to fill the vacancy created by retirement of Mrs. Harold Hunsberger, Quakertown.

The board was informed of the anticipated foreign welfare personnel that will spend two weeks in Bucks county, observing social and welfare agencies of the county, the latter part of January or early February. These persons will come from friendly countries through the United Nations and its four point program. Miss Berton is making plans for their stay in the county, and the Bucks County Board of Assistance "hopes all agencies will participate in making this experience a valuable one for the visiting social workers as well as the agencies."

SPEED—THE KILLER

Traffic authorities who still contemplate with dismay the all time high in traffic fatalities established over the recent New Year's week-end, will probably be bemused by this one: On January 23 speed limits will be abolished in Western Germany. The government plans to impose stiffer penalties on motorists who break other driving rules. The argument is that such deterrents will be more effective than speed limits in promoting safe driving.

To those in this country who are working to cut the frightful traffic tolls the approach of German traffic authorities will appear rather fatuous. Safety and law enforcement officials know that speed is the killer and they can prove it.

An exhaustive analysis of all traffic accidents reveals that speed is fully responsible for 50 per cent of the traffic death toll. The total was approximately 38,000 for 1952. A comparison of the death rates and speed limits of various states reveals this fact.

In the one state in the nation which has a speed limit of 40 miles an hour, for example, the traffic death rate was 4.2 per 100,000 vehicle miles in 1950. In the seven states where the speed limit was 55 the death rate was 8.1 in the same year. In the 11 states which have no fixed maximum speed limit the rate was 8.2.

A recent comparison of statistics for the Pennsylvania Turnpike, where the speed limit is 70, and the New Jersey Turnpike, with a speed limit of 60, shows death rates of 8.0 and 6.5 respectively. There is an inescapable conclusion that speed makes the difference between what might be called major and minor accidents. In many cases this is the difference between traffic deaths and traffic injuries.

Knowledge that the shiny motor car is a more relentless killer than an enemy's guns might be expected to have a profound effect on drivers. But apparently it doesn't. There seems to be no other way out than protecting the public against itself by imposing uniformly low speed limits.

There must also be a stepup in the campaign of driver education, to convince those at the wheel that by speeding they are contributing more to human misery than any plague in modern times.

Chicago psychologist says people talk too much. Or say too little.

The new year has progressed far enough to prove that every year is leap year—for pedestrians while crossing the street.

Oklahoma state employees may be asked to swear they do not favor a change in government, except as may occur after an election.

Rocket experts say it will soon be possible to fire a missile so high it will never return. Why?

moter in the Philadelphia area, was kidnapped for $100,000 ransom. He was taken to the icy waters of the Neshaminy Creek directly beneath the then lower-road bridge at Croydon, and tossed in.

The body was found where Robert Farrell, one of the Robert (Killer) Mais mobsters told police it lay. It was dragged from the waters of the Neshaminy a few hours after Mais and Walter Legenza had been sentenced to death in the electric chair on February 2, 1935, for killing a truck driver.

Bucks county, at that time, was saddled with four murder cases growing out of Philadelphia racketeering, which ended with the murder of Weiss in Bucks county.

The body of the murdered gambler was brought to Doylestown where an autopsy was performed by the late Dr. John J. Sweeney, at the former George R. Leator morgue.

Eckert, who now seeks commutation was arrested and charged with being an accessory to the kidnapping and murder.

Eckert was a minor member of the notorious gang, and was captured in a North Sixth street house in Philadelphia from which Mais and his lieutenant, Legenza shot their way to temporary freedom.

Eckert mapped out a route for the kidnap gang to reach the Weiss home in Philadelphia. He admitted getting $500 "cut" the night of the murder.

The trials were probably the most dramatic in the history of Bucks county criminal records. Eckert turned State's evidence and turned out to be the star witness for District Attorney Arthur M. Eastburn.

Those who heard Eckert testify described the long session as mobster against mobster. The nattily clad Eckert, with his often-broken nose spreading broadly across his face, was as calm as any man who ever sat on the Bucks county witness stand charged with murder. He described the entire workings of the Mais-Legenza gang and the Weiss kidnap-killings.

Telegraph companies opened special headquarters in the then Lehman Building on East Court street and newspapermen from numerous cities covered the stories and wired over 300,000 words to their offices. Some of the country's outstanding reporters covered the trials.

Wiley and Farrell were sentenced on April 29, 1935, by the late Judge Calvin S. Boyer to death in the electric chair.

Eckert underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Abington Memorial Hospital on Nov. 12, 1935, shortly before his trial date.

Eckert pleaded guilty before Judges Keller and Boyer in December, 1935 and was sentenced by Judge Boyer to life imprisonment on a charge of murder in the first degree.

In 1946, Eckert asked the State Pardons Board for commutation but was refused. What happens next Thursday, January 22, when his case is brought up again, remains to be seen.

The writer covered the electrocution of Farrell and Wiley, the two brothers-in-laws on Monday morning, Dec. 2, 1935, at Rockview Penitentiary near Bellefonte, and was a witness in the death chamber.

Franks emphasized that the industry picture in the area was one of diversification. The figures he was using were as of December 1952, and with the constant expansion of the area his estimate of employees in area plants could be taken as "conservative." Included in the study, said Franks, were firms where only manufacturing was done and did not include retail establishments.

This continued decrease is due to no one particular factor, but to several such as death, moving from the county and the state of institutionalization and employment. At present there are 181 persons on old age assistance, 12 blind pensioners, 267 dependent children, 25 disabled persons and 36 general assistance persons. is that the stalwarts knew what the facts were and were able to prove them.

Among those who have stood shoulder to shoulder in this long battle which now once again has brought the Republican Party into control nationally are a number of Pennsylvanians.

Dean of the Pennsylvania delegation is the senior U. S. Senator, the man who holds the ranking office of all those at the gift of the Pennsylvania people, the Hon. Edward Martin.

Recently re-elected by a substantial majority, Senator Martin returns to Washington to assume heavy and varied responsibilities. He will become chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee and probably will continue to head the Senate Finance Committee. He also is chairman of a committee on Capitol Hill patronage, and will sit in several policy-determining groups.

Tomorrow's article will discuss the background of this important Pennsylvanian who promises to play so large a part in the coming session.

A series of Articles Introducing the New Residents of Levittown to The Community.
(By Staff Reporter)

LEVITTOWN, Jan. 16 — Have you seen Fluffy, the Kazoroski's part-angora cat. He has been missing from 46 Edgewood lane for four weeks.

Anthony W. Kazoroski and his wife, Anna, raised Fluffy since the kitten's birth at their former home in Trenton four years ago. The cat's mother was a stray gray and white feline the family had adopted.

Fluffy is gray, with white rings around his neck. Apparently homesick for Trenton, he strayed from home several weeks ago, but returned in two days. The cat left again, and has been missing ever since.

Mr. and Mrs. Kazoroski were both born in Trenton. She is a graduate of Trenton High School, and he graduated from Trenton Junior College when it was called Trenton School of Industrial Arts. Mr. Kazoroski is an electrician for Kaiser Metals Corp.

Gloria, their 11-year-old daughter is looking for some Levittown playmates of the same age. She is in sixth grade in Fallsington School. Gloria enjoys active sports, and used to play baseball and football in Trenton.

TWO FIRE CALLS

Bristol firemen, yesterday, a little after noon extinguished a blaze in a vacant two-story wood and stone building at 100 Otter street. Owner of the building is identified as M. Marucci, of Bath street, Bristol, by firemen. Workmen were engaged in alterations to the building, said Chief Hagerman, and it appeared that the fire started from a rubbish pile near the building. No injuries were reported. No damage was listed to the building. Later in the evening firemen put out a trash fire at the rear of 315 Wilson street.

Brass doorknobs and knockers polished with wax will preserve their sparkle in spite of winter weather.

Franklin Rallies
In Final Quarter
To Upset Penndel

Franklin A. C. rallied in the final quarter to upset the Penndel Aces, 79-67 last night in the opener of a double-header on the Rohm & Haas floor. The triumph put Franklin back into the Bristol Basketball League race.

Franklin had a 59-45 lead at the close of the third session but the Aces played determined ball and trimmed the lead to four points with three minutes remaining to be played. But the height of Jack Spencer and Grant Eckert enabled Franklin to control the boards and help them to their final spree which netted a 12-point win.

Tony Palumbo did outstanding work for Franklin in the third quarter when he hit for five double-doubles and a foul which aided him in totaling 15 points for the night. Stan Lelinski accounted for 16 points with Eckert getting 15. Eckert scored four two-pointers in the second session.

Marty Braam excelled in the second half for the Aces. He cut the cords for six fielders and a foul in this half to give him 17 points for the night. Tommy Kervick ended with 14 points and Billy Hibbs, 12.

It was the fourth loss of the season for the Aces.

Hilltop Puts Up
Good Game But Loses

Hilltop A. C. played its best game of the season last night on the Rohm & Haas court but bowed to the Rohm & Haas team, 69-64, in a Bristol Basketball League tilt.

The Hilltoppers played a pressing game all night which helped to overcome the height advantage of the chemical mixers, but the constant scoring of Hughie Bowe, Walt Zook, and Augie Everitt prevailed for the Maple Beach aggregation.

The game became the most exciting with 55 seconds to play and Everitt had dropped in a foul to give Rohm & Haas a 66-64 lead. Hilltop had possession but Whitfield and Weaver missed shots which would have deadlocked the score. In the last fifteen seconds, "Chuck" Klein scored three Rohm & Haas points.

The game was close most of the game. Rohm & Haas had a 19-16 lead in the first quarter but Hilltop on Weaver's shooting took a half-time lead of 37-34. Bowe scored 20 of the Rohm & Haas first half points. In the third quarter, Hilltop's lead dropped to two points, 51-49. Zook tied the score to start the final Rohm & Haas then jumped into a 10-point lead only to have the Toppers come back and shave the lead to one-point before the last 55 seconds.

Everitt, Bowe, and Zook tabbed 56 of the winner's points with Bowe accounting for 26.

Jack Weaver, Bob Whitfield, and Roy Richmond were Hilltop's best scorers.

OWLS TO MEET NESHAMINY

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Jan. 16.—Bensalem Township High will attempt to snap out of its losing streak tonight as it meets Neshaminy High on the Owl's court. First game will get under way at seven o'clock.

Storage Bins

Roth declared, "In the winter of '48-'49, we had approximately 300,000 bushels of corn under loan or purchase agreement. This corn had to be moved by September 1st.

"But after the bins were ordered, we got a bid for this corn at a little better than usual price, so it wasn't necessary to store it after all. And the last year or two, we've always been able to dispose of the corn without delay."

Mr. Wilkinson of Rushland figured that the arrival and installation of the bins was not a very happy occasion in that area of Bucks County. "Looks like when they were put up, the millers figured it was a threat to their business. "For one thing, they would have had to pay the charges for getting and hauling the corn from the bins."

In fact, Wrightstown Township was pretty hot up about it and talked enthusiastically about passing zoning laws, so structures such as the bins could never be located again in that area.

It was originally planned to put in 20 bins. And they were going to build a road that would weave around the bins, so it would be easier to get in and out with the grain. But this road never became a reality.

Well, now in a few days, there'll be a brand-new Republican regime set up in Washington—and Bucks County is still a Republican stronghold. Maybe these two groups will see more eye to eye in matters of this sort.
